Halwell Fruitwood Chair

Halwell Grey Fruitwood Chair by William Yeoward. Halwell library chair was taken from a 19th century original. This great comfortable but compact chair has been used in our library at home for many years, and comes into its own as a set of four from which to play cards. An upholstered back and seat with a fruitwood frame makes this piece both durable and practical.

We have, in the past, used the Halwell chair at a dining or breakfast chair.
