Bramford Wheat Cabinet

The lovely motif on the door fronts of the Bramford Wheat Cabinet were inspired by a luxurious handbag our director of furniture Aimee Kurzner spotted. Made of mahogany with a light wheat finish, the pattern on the tan cabinet doors is made of interwoven taupe and ivory leather, and the ferrules on the legs are made of brass in a light antique brass finish. This design was first introduced with the leather woven chair we debuted several markets ago. With its removable wine rack, it makes an elegant bar cabinet. It has push-to-open doors, a storage drawer with soft close drawer glides, adjustable shelving, and cord management holes. We also offer this hue of the Bramford as a nightstand, and in a nightstand and cabinet in black.
