Swoop Cabinet

The Swoop Cabinet, designed by Jamie Beckwith, is based on a strong graphic shape that comes alive with the contrast of oak in its pale natural state and in caviar black finish. Originally created in bold patterns for vertical and horizontal surfaces, Beckwith says of the Swoop, "I was inspired by mid-century design, specifically Italian designer Gio Ponti, when creating the Swoop pattern. I especially like the idea of curves with straight lines found in Swoop. There is a feminine but masculine feeling to these designs which work well in many environments, and that is due specifically to the shape." We have a number of offerings in the Swoop family of products.
