Revett Wall Sconce

Made of wrought iron in a crisp textured white finish, the Revett Wall Sconce is part brutalist masterpiece and part contemporary luminary. The strongest artisanal touch is how thickly and evenly the stippled finish coats every element of the exterior of a lamp, as if its designer took a cue from modern architects who avidly build crisp white edifices so they will gleam against bright blue skies. The chunky shapes that make up its profile will make this a shoe-in for industrial chic interiors. This sconce can be hung to reflect up-light or downlight.
