Birdlore Vanilla Wall Sconce

Made of expertly woven rattan that has been bleached, the Birdlore Vanilla Wall Sconce will be an expressive luminary in a space. The process to create this lovely sconce is intensive, as the rattan is submerged in water to make it pliable and then it is woven entirely by hand. The beige wall sconce with its two-tiered shade is a textural accent whether the lights are switched on or not. This is a perfect fixture for a natural material palette and for a room in which neutral colours create a soothing backdrop.
