Bective Table Lamp

Tom Caldwell designed the Bective Table Lamp with its urn-shaped body that sits between two thin stems. He was aiming to create a smaller accent lamp that was somewhat traditional but with cleaner forms. In the process, he manifested a complex design with its cascading shapes. Made of aluminium, the gold table lamp has an antique brass finish on the metal, which contrasts the black granite base. The lamp is topped with an empire-shaped off-white linen shade.
