Meraki Wood Table Lamp

The Meraki Wood Table Lamp was designed by Pam Bailey and Christina Pomroy to be a warm element in a room. Each piece of the wood inlay is cut and hand-applied, and the brown lamp has a textural feel because the thickness of the natural material varies from piece to piece. The gold finish on the metal hardware teases out the warmer tones in the wood, and the oatmeal linen shade echoes the textural qualities in the columnar body.
