Canaan Chandelier

The ethnic DNA of the Canaan Chandelier is showing, not only through its shape that has an Asian feel, but also in the patterning on the bottom of the shade, which presents a serious surprise given it is made of rattan. The cap, hardware, and outer rim of the shade on this rattan chandelier are made of wrought iron in a contemporary gold leaf finish. A design detail of note is how the circlets of rattan bring the black and white painted surface added texture.
